New Teacher Elected.

Superintendent Geo. W. Chapman reporting to the School Board that a congested condition existed in grade six at the City School, Miss B. McGuire, of Lexington, was elected by the Board to teach the overflow.

Merchants are always complaining about Paris people going to Lexington to buy goods when just as good for no more money can be found at home. They have a right to enter a kick. If this be true, why is there not a kick coming from the number of talented teachers in Paris and Bourbon county when the Paris School Board goes to Lexington to select a teacher.

Hear in mind we have no charge whatever to make against Miss McGuire, the new teacher. We know nothing of her qualifications, and knew nothing of her selection for several weeks after she had been installed as teacher. The point we raise is this, is it possible that even among the late graduates of the Paris City School, one of them could not be found to be competent to teach this overflow of grade six. Several of them we know have teachers certificates, and would have been more than pleased to have been selected for this position.

Furthermore, one of the applicants for this place was a former teacher in the school, Miss Jennie Kenney, who resigned to leave Kentucky, but being here on a visit was urged to remain and applied for the place. She is known by all to have been one of the most competent teachers ever in the school. She even did not suit the Board and was turned down. It looks as if no Paris girl need apply to this Board. They seem to prefer Lexington. We ask the public if this is right?

DEATHS.

—William Garrard Holt, aged 70 years (the oldest son of the late Mrs. Ellen Garrard Holt, who was buried on Wednesday, Jan. 6) died at an early hour Tuesday morning of pneumonia. He had been complaining since the death of his mother, to whom he was a devoted son.

Mr. Holt served in the Confederate army along with his two brothers, J. Lawrence Holt and Harry Holt, belonging to Company C, Ninth Kentucky Cavalry, commanded by the late Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge. Mr. Holt was with his company and regiment throughout the war, fighting with the army of Tennessee, and took part in the hundred days fighting from Tunnel Hill to Atlanta; took part in the battle of Atlanta; fought Burbridge at Saltville, Va., and returning, followed and fought Sherman from Atlanta to the sea. The regiment was assigned the duty among others of escorting President Jefferson Davis upon the fall of Richmond across the country to Washington, Ga., where the regiment surrendered.

An incident connected with the surrender of Col. Breckinridge's regiment was brought to light two weeks ago, when Mr. Holt received a U. S. Treasury warrant from Washington, D. C., for $115, it being the value of his horse surrendered at Washington, Ga., May 8, 1865.

The funeral services took place at the grave in the Paris Cemetery Wednesday at 11 a. m. Services by Rev. Dr. B. M. Shive, assisted by the Confederate veterans.

—Will W. Bain, one of the most popular and beloved young business men of Lexington, is dead. His birth place was near Hutchison Station, this county.

—Miss Mattie D. Todd, aged 56, died at her home in Cynthiana, Tuesday, of cancer. For twelve years she was postmistress in Cynthiana, serving under the administration of Presidents Garfield and Arthur, Cleveland and Harrison. She was a business woman, possessing considerable property.

—Mrs. R. M. Rice, aged 70 years, died at her home on Fifteenth street, Tuesday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, after several weeks of illness. Mrs. Rice was formerly Miss Janie Piper, of Nicholas county, and was married to her surviving husband in Carlisle, Oct. 21, 1858. They recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, having with them their only child, Mr. C. E. Rice, a prominent banker at Fulton, Ky. Mrs. Rice was an excellent Christian Woman, loved by all who knew her and most by those who knew her best.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice moved to Paris several months ago from North Middletown, where they had lived for near fifty years.

Shortly before the death of Mrs. Rice, her aged husband slipped and fell upon the street, breaking several of his ribs. She was not told of her husband's misfortune. She had been considered by her physicians as improving, and her death was sudden and unexpected.

Besides her husband and son, she is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Laura Hutchison of Millersburg, and Mrs. Rhoda Conway and Mrs. Fannie Norton, of Carlisle.

The funeral services were held at the North Middletown Christian church yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock, conducted by Elder Dick. Burial in North Middletown cemetery.

The Boss of the Bosses.

That was plain language that Francis J. Heney used when he told the City Club of Philadelphia that Edward H. Harriman, through his control of the Southern Pacific Railroad, was responsible for the graft and corruption found in San Francisco. As Mr. Heney bluntly expressed it, "The corruption of city life in San Francisco was not found in the deals made by Reuf, but was due to the fact that Harriman wanted to use certain men. Our real boss sits in New York City and reaches across the country in working out his schemes."

It is the old story, back of all the political corruption. There is not a dishonest political boss in the United States who could hold his power for a year if some powerful corporation was not behind him and using its resources to sustain him. The boss of the bosses is always the man who "sits in New York City" or elsewhere with millions of organized capital behind him and "reaches across the country in working out his schemes."

Protection and the Power to Tax

Said Dr. Woodrow Wilson at the Southern Society dinner:

"The power of a Government to tax never to be used to confer privileges upon individuals or groups of individuals; but should be used always and only to secure general benefits."

Said Judge Gary to the Ways and Means Committee:

Mr. Metcalf for the Harvester Trust, Judge Gary for the Steel Trust, Mr. Carnegie citing both opinions and enforcing them indisputably and unanswerably, have declared protection no longer necessary.

Protection does cease, oppression does begin, when vast industries receive tariff aid which they no longer need.

"The power of the Government to tax" is used "to confer privileges upon individuals" and not to "secure general benefits," when it levies tribute upon the American consumer on behalf of the world defying native industries without the excuse of either protective or revenue-raising necessity.

"What is the matter with Kansas?" Not lack of prosperity at any rate. She has increased her bank deposits in one year $20,000,000 and has a total of $160,000,000 now on deposit.

It was David who declared in his haste that "all men are liars," but David's hurry was a slow walk compared with our exceedingly rapid chief executive. He includes some women.

Some day, perhaps, the people of the west, who feed the world, and the people of the South, who clothe the world, will see the folly of allowing a handful of men in the east to rule them and exploit them for their own selfish benefit.

The fact that Andrew Carnegie has contributed $150,000 towards the purification of Pittsburgh affords the suggestion that right there is an opportunity for Mr. Carnegie to die poor. It will take an awful bunch of money to purify that town.

Her Kick.

"I don't mind finding a gray hair or two in my own hair," sighed the bachelor girl, who shows some few signs of the mere and yellow leaf, "but when I pay $3 for a nice bunch of lovely brown curls and have to pick them out of those, too, it isn't fair. Do you think it is?"

The Crowning Achievement.

The President, who was once an eloquent advocate of "publicity in the interest of the public," not only refuses to permit the Attorney-General to tell the United States Senate why he failed to bring action under the Anti-Trust law against the United States Steel Corporation on account of its acquisition of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, its principal competitor, but denies the right of Congress to call for such information.

Mr. Bonaparte's reasons, however, are not far to seek. He could not proceed against the Steel Trust because Mr. Roosevelt personally licensed the transaction. Mr. Roosevelt admits that he "was personally cognizant of and responsible for its every detail," and that he authorized the purchase because the representatives of the Steel Trust desired to "prevent a panic."

On such a statement of facts what is the use of Federal laws? If the President of the United States can license an ostensible violation of the Sherman act on the pretense of preventing "a panic" which had already taken place and for which he was largely responsible, we see no reason why he should not suspend any other Federal statutes whenever it suited his whim or desire or convenience or political plans. He might even authorize piracy on the high seas if it were represented to him that a little judicious buccaneering would "prevent a panic" or "save the situation."

The incident is a further illustration of the manner in which Mr. Roosevelt substitutes personal government for government by law under the Constitution. Corporations that please him have protection and immunity. Only corporations that displease him are prosecuted. Mr. Roosevelt's methods differ in no important respect from those of an Oriental sultan who rewards or punishes his courtiers according to his caprice. There has been nothing else like it known to American institutions.

Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good," and Dr. Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze" for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

Definition of a Giraffe.

The children had written compositions on the giraffe. They were reading them aloud to the class. At last the time came for little Willie Doran to read his. —Have you made a guess on the Toast Pick at C. W. Howard's? If you are the lucky one you get 50 pounds of W. R. flour and 5 pounds Bucker Coffee.

—Mr. Gariand Fisher attended a call meeting of the State officers of the Epworth League at Wilmore Wednesday.

—Messrs. Duvault and Thompson, of Kansas City, Mo., arrived Monday as guests of Mr. Bert McClintock. They will buy a car load of the best bred jacks while here.

—The annual Senior Hop at M. M. L. which was announced in last issue for the 29th of January will take place on the 28th. The change was made on account of Saxton & Trost having a previous engagement for that date.

—The Orpheum Musical Club, the second number of the Lyceum Course, Wednesday evening, Jan. 27, opera house, 8 o'clock. General admission 35 cents, reserved seats 50 cents. Seats go on sale at the drug store of Smith & Wadell Saturday afternoon, Jan. 23.

—The protracted meeting at the Presbyterian church will continue over Sunday, Rev. Smith is preaching good sermons and drawing large crowds. The crowd on Sunday night was larger than any ever seen there on any previous occasion except at commencement time. Many were turned away because they could not get seating accommodations, while many stood patiently in the rear of the auditorium during the entire service.

—The first real snow of the season fell here Monday night. During the day Monday a light rain fell which continued at intervals through the entire day and about dark it began freezing so rapidly that by 9 o'clock the sidewalks were a glare of ice. About 10 o'clock it began raining harder, which was converted into snow, continuing until about eight o'clock Tuesday morning, the weather clearing during the entire day the sleigh bells were heard and many an anxious girl as she looked from her window at the passing sleighs wondered if she would be asked next Wednesday about ten o'clock, another fall of snow began.

—The Orpheum Musical Club is one of the best male quartettes on the road. They are now playing their sixth season and in that time have played many return dates. The work is calculated to please any popular audience. Their program admits of much variety, brass and vocal music, impersonations and illustrated songs.

—Mr. S. R. Butler and son, William, spent Saturday and Sunday with his father, Mr. Wm. Butler, of Tilton, Sunday being the 87th anniversary of the old gentleman's birth, who is in good health and active.

—We have yet a few season tickets for the Lyceum Course which we will dispose of at 75 cents for the remaining numbers. Ten cents extra for each number for reserved seats if you desire them. Leave your names with Smith & Wadell at the postoffice or with R. M. Caldwell, manager.

—One of the attractive features of the Orpheum Musical Club is the brass quartette, consisting of cornet, mellophone, baritone, and trombone. This is a rare and delightful combination, insuring a well-balanced quartette. The richness of tone being unexcelled and a variety of music offered which will please the most exacting.

Discriminating Woman.

Lady theatrical managers seem to be peculiarly fortunate, or rather peculiarly clever at gauging the taste of the public. Possibly they are not so vain as the actor-manager, or they choose their plays with greater acumen, or they pay more attention to trifles and good management in small matters.—London Graphic.

Madeira's Equable Climate.

Madeira is said to have the most equable climate in all the world. In summer the average heat is a little above 70, and in the winter it seldom goes below 60. For this reason, it is a favorite resort for invalids, especially those suffering from tuberculosis and pulmonary troubles.

Pretty Good Evidence.

"Flubber, the tragedian, is undoubtedly a great actor." "Have you ever seen him act?" "No. I base my remarks on the fact that he has never written any reminiscences for the magazines."

Dissenters Buy Church.

The sixty-four members of the Cavalry Baptist church, at Lexington, who withdrew last week on account of the dissensions over the charges against the resignation of the pastor, the Rev. W. P. Hines, Tuesday, purchased the frame tabernacle on South Upper street, in that city, which has been used by the First Methodist church congregation, until their new building was completed. The building was purchased by Miss Mattie Anderson, acting for the sixty-four members, and a three-year lease for the lot on which the building stands was secured at the same time. The purchasers will at once organize a new Baptist church, with the Rev. W. P. Hines as its pastor. The Cavalry Baptist church has not yet secured a pastor to succeed Mr. Hines.

The Philosopher of Folly.

"A hero," says the Philosopher of Folly, "is a man who does something on the spur of the moment that he wouldn't do if he had time to sit down and think it over."

Angel's Gifts.

If, instead of a gem, or even of a flower, we could cast the gift of a lovely thought into the heart of a friend, that would be giving as the angels. I suppose, must give.—George MacDonald.

Better Than Refrigerator.

It is well known that food can be preserved without undergoing decomposition for a much longer period in a container, from which the air has been nearly exhausted, than in the customary refrigerator. In a nearly absolute vacuum milk, fish and meat have been preserved for months unchanged without further expense than that of withdrawing the air originally present in the receptacle.

"Beginning on January 13, 1909, there was installed for the betterment of the postal service in this city a closed pouch for train 32, Cincinnati and Knoxville, North-bound, leaving Paris at 6:25 p. m.

"As there is no mail clerk on this train at present, this additional service will not include any points between Paris and Cincinnati, but will be a closed pouch, containing mail for Cincinnati and States North, East, West and for parts of the South, and will advance all mail for these points which is placed in postoffice by 5:35 p. m., about 12 hours. A little later on the night collection will be made at 7:20 p. m. instead of 8:20 as at present."

Will Probated.

The last will and testament of the late Jonathan Myall was probated Tuesday in the County Court. The testator devises that his just debts and funeral expenses be paid after which he leaves one fourth of the residue of his estate to each of his children, E. J. Myall, Mrs. Mary Johnson and Mrs. Katie Johnson. Out of the remaining one fourth he directs that $150 be given to his son, E. J. Myall, and $100 to his daughter, Mrs. Mary Johnson, for like sums advanced by them to his grandson, Myall Lowe. The remainder of the one fourth of his estate he leaves to his granddaughter, Kate Clark, daughter of his deceased daughter, Mrs. Annie Myall Lowe.

Republican Judge Appointed.

Governor Willson Wednesday appointed Thomas Patterson as County Judge of Calloway county to succeed Judge A. J. G. Wells, who resigned to accept the Governor's appointment as a member of the Board of Control. Patterson is a well known Republican of Calloway. This is believed to be the first time in the history of the county that a Republican has ever held the judgeship of Calloway as the Democratic majority is large.

THEATRICAL.

—The evolution of Ethiopian entertainment brings the art of colored minstrelsy to the acme of its profession in the performance given by the Dandy Dixie Minstrels, who will be seen at the Paris Grand on Monday, Jan. 18.

The Dandy Dixie Minstrels comprises thirty stars of the black face art, headed by Billy Kersands, a grand old minstrel man and an all round comedian; Campbell and Meaux, sketch team and character delineators of the funny kind; Prince, the most versatile of all colored performers, skilled in manipulating hoops, walking wires, magic, and great trombone virtuoso; Montrose Douglas, champion trick bicyclist; James Crosby, the elegant comedian and eccentric dancer; Buddy Jones, the picaninny dancing marvel; Manzy Campbell, soft shoe dancing champion; the Cotton Pickers' band, under the leadership of Alonzo Montgomery, the black Creator, and the Dixie Rangers Quartette.

The first part is replete with the latest and sweetest of songs and dances such as can be rendered only by the real dandy. There are ten feature acts in the olio, and the screamingly funny afterpiece, "The Possumville Spellers," is said to be a red hot laughing climax. The Dixie Minstrels is now one of the firmly established and extremely successful stage enterprises.

Suit for Breach of Promise.

The filing of a suit against one of the wealthiest farmers in Jessamine county for breach of promise has caused a mild sensation at Nicholasville. The plaintiff is Minnie Rogers, the divorced wife of Al Stewart, and the defendant is John Brown. The plaintiff in her petition alleges that Brown has repeatedly promised to marry her, but has refused to do so, and she asks judgment for $30,000 and costs. The plaintiff is the daughter of John Rogers, is 23 years of age and is considered beautiful. She was married several years ago to Al Stewart, but was granted a divorce a few weeks ago. She has one child. Mr. Brown is much older than Miss Rogers. He is one of the wealthiest men in that county and belongs to an old and prominent family. He has never been married.

New Question Raised.

The prosecution in the trial of the ex-banker, T. S. Anderson, at Owensboro, admitted Wednesday that the question raised by the defense as to the authority of a notary public to take oath to bank statement has never been raised in the United States and is technically well founded, but declares that it is sanctioned by custom of 100 years' duration in Kentucky.

Kern Defeated.

The Democratic members of the State Legislature met Wednesday night in caucus to nominate a candidate for United States Senator and at 2 o'clock yesterday morning named former Congressman E. P. Shively for the place. The result of the last ballot follows: Shively, 42; Kern, 35; Lamb, 4; Menzies, 1; Maas, 1.

Plenty of Water.

Stoner is now filled with water and the scare of a water famine is a thing of the past. There had been an eight foot raise in the creek up to yesterday morning, the water being two or three feet from running over the dam at the Paris Milling Company's plant. There is a probability, however, that there will be too much water now, as Stoner continues to rise slowly and the melting snow is likely to put the creeks out of their banks.

Miss Bessie Clark Dead.

A telegram received here Wednesday morning from Roswell, New Mexico, announced the death of Miss Bessie Clarke, as the result of an operation at the Roswell Hospital. The news was a great shock to the many friends of the most excellent young lady in this city and county, where she had spent most of her life.

She was the daughter of the late John T. Clarke, and moved from this city last November with her brother, John T. Clarke, and sister, Miss Sallie M. Clarke, to reside permanently. Miss Clarke was 32 years of age and was an active member in the Paris Baptist church up to the time she left the city. She hated to leave Bourbon county and only consented when it was evident that another climate was necessary for the health of her brother and sister.

The remains are expected to reach this city some time Saturday when they will be taken to the residence of Mr. Robert Kenney, her cousin, on South Main street, until arrangements are made for the funeral.

Ullman Lancaster Has Narrow Escape from Death.

Ullman Lancaster, the East Tennessee Telephone Company's trouble man, by rare presence of mind on yesterday morning got himself out of serious trouble by jumping from one of the high poles of his company to the street. He was putting up a wire on High street, between Eighth and Ninth streets, that the sleet had brought to the ground. With the end of the loose wire in one hand he proceeded to climb the pole. When he reached the cross-beam, which supports the wire of the Paris Electric Light plant, which was a live one, he grabbed to the beam with the loose hand. This made a circuit and the current passed through his body.

His quick presence of mind was here displayed, he was to either jump to the street or be roasted to death and he let all hold go and landed with one foot on the curbing, the other in the gutter.

It was thought at first that one of his legs was broken, but proved only to be a severe sprain from the awful jolt. With several bruises and a terrible stoving up he made a narrow escape from a horrible death. He is resting comfortably, but will no doubt be confined to his bed for several days.

Fireman Lafferty Killed in Shear Tunnel.

Fireman Chas. Lafferty, aged about 27 years, fell from his engine in Shear Tunnel, near Corbin, early yesterday morning and was terribly mangled. Mr. Lafferty was firing for Engineer John Muggridge, who was pulling the North bound L. & N. fast freight, due in Paris at 5:36 a. m. yesterday.

There is a sharp curve in the tunnel, a place where Mr. Lafferty has always been very careful and watchful for, the last the engineer noticed his fireman he was coaling the engine near this point, and the supposition is that when the monster engine reached this curve it jerked the fireman out of the engine.

The train ran for two miles before Lafferty was missed by the engineer. The train was backed to the tunnel, where the remains of the fireman were picked up. One leg was cut off and his body otherwise mangled.

The Costly Brier Pipe.

"People don't understand brier pipe making," said a dealer. "If they did they wouldn't consider a five or six dollar brier extravagant. Did you know, for instance, that a brier pipe after its completion is put away to season for nine or ten years? French brier is the best material for these pipes. It isn't, though, brier, and it doesn't come from France. It comes from—etymologically speaking—the word 'bryere,' which means 'furze.' French brier is really Italian furze root, a growth of the Tuscan Alps. The plant is as carefully cultivated as tobacco itself. All the sprouts and leaves are kept well pruned; thus all the sap goes to the root's nourishment. The root is cut when fully developed and boiled and dried before shipment. Afterward the pipemaker boils and dries it again. And when the pipe is finished he stores it away for further drying—a matter of eight years or so. The best brier pipe is one cut crosswise of the grain, and the grain should be birdseye. Such a pipe lasts a lifetime—can be handed down from father to son. Of course it's dear."

Only the Truth.

A virtue carried to excess may become ridiculous. To such action one may well preach, "Be temperate in all things," even in virtue. Amelia Opie, the English authoress, was not content with any half measures, as is shown in a letter from her quoted in "Quaker Pictures," by Wilfred Whittier. Mrs. Opie's course of conduct is to be respected as proceeding from her conscientious nature, but fiction readers may congratulate themselves that her opinions are not universal.

Before she became a Quaker she wrote fiction. After her conversion she was asked to contribute a story to a magazine. Her answer to the editor ran as follows:

"Thou knowest or ought to know that since I became a Friend I am not free to what is called to make a story. I will write a fact for thy perusal or any little matter of history or truth or a poem if thou wishest, but I must not lie and say such and such a thing took place when it did not. Dost thou understand?"

A Famous Story.

Every section has its famous story. A famous story that is being retold in Oregon is about a very rich banker who got his start by doing work for the government. His bill was $5,000, and it had to be submitted to congress. Congress has a habit of cutting its bills in two. To make allowance for this he jumped his bill to $10,000. He sent the bill to the governor for his approval. The governor, having also heard that congress generally appropriated only half as much as was asked, jumped it to $20,000. The bill was then sent to one of the congressmen. Being friendly to the contractor, he jumped it to $40,000 and sent it to another Oregon congressman for his approval. The second congressman jumped it to $80,000. Congress allowed the whole $80,000, although the contractor was entitled to only $5,000. This is told as a fact in Oregon. The man who got the $80,000 got his start on it and is now a millionaire.—Aitchison Globe.

A "Lady" in Pepys' Time.

There were worse terrors than the matinee hat for the man who sat behind a lady in the seventeenth century theater, as recalled by the London Chronicle. At least, we may suppose so from Mr. Pepys' experience on Jan. 28, 1661, when he saw "The Lost Lady" for the second time. Nine days earlier that play had not pleased him much, partly perhaps because he was "troubled to be seen by four of our office clerks, which sat in the half crown box and I in the 1s. 6d." But on the second occasion the play did "please me better than before, and here, I sitting behind in a dark place, a lady spit backward upon me by a mistake, not seeing me." However, it was all right, for, "after seeing her to be a very pretty lady, I was not troubled at it at all."

In Different Sets.

It is but seldom, one imagines, that a good joke is made about an oyster. Edmund Yates, however, in his "Recollections and Experiences," relates one. "I was walking with Thackeray one evening from the club," writes Yates, "and, passing a fish shop in New street, he noticed two different tubs of oysters, one marked 'I shilling a dozen' and the other '1s. 3d. a dozen.' 'How they must hate each other,' said Thackeray."

London's Bridges.

Few people are aware of the extent to which the city of London is bridged over. In all, it seems, there are no fewer than seventy-five bridges. Of these nineteen are railway bridges, three are bridges over roads (such as Holborn viaduct), and fifty-three are bridges which connect private premises.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Placing Him.

"May I ask you what your profession is?"

Mean.

Maud (before the laughing hyena's rage)—How provoking! Here we've been twenty minutes, and the hyena hasn't laughed once. Ella—Strange, and he's been cying your new hat too!

His Great Love.

She—Darling, do you love me? He (kissing her rapturously and repeatedly)—Do I? I wish you were a two headed girl. That's all I can say.—London Tit-Bits.

Slim Women of Hungary.

The women of Hungary regard a small waist as the greatest possible beauty, and they will endure anything in order to put on an appearance of being small waisted. Tight lacing is carried on to an extraordinary extent, and the waist is compressed by force until one would think that the owner could hardly breathe. Yet in this confined state the women will plunge into the wildest of Hungarian dances, known as the czardas, and prance frantically like ballet dancers until at the end they sink, gasping, exhausted and well nigh suffocated, on a sofa. As they grow older most of these slim beauties become enormously stout, and then they are regarded as quite old. The Hungarians, though they resemble the Turks in many ways, have not the Turkish admiration for fat women or the English admiration for elderly made up belles. Hungary is a land of slim young women, and when they lose their figure they lose their attractiveness and their power.—Modern Society.

"Times Is Changed."

"Yes, sirc, Bill; times is changed since you an' me was doin' our courtin'," said Adoniram Clover, with a note of sadness in his voice, to old Andy Clover, who had come over to "set a spell."

"When we was doin' our courtin', Andy, a gal thought she was belin' treated right hansom if a feller bought her 10 cents' wuth o' pep'mints once in awhile, an' if he tuk her to any doin's in town she didn't expect him to go down into his jeans to the tune of a dollar or two for ice cream an' soda water an' candy at fo'ty cents a pound. My son Si tuk his ducksy-diddle to the band concert in town yestiday, an' there wa'n't a quarter left of a dollar bill he struck me for time he got home. Beats all the way young folks throw the money away nowadays. I tell ye times is changed mightily since we was boys, an' the Lawd only knows what the end will be with a feller layin' out 75 cents on a gal in one day!"—St. Louis Republic.

The Innocent Young Thing.

The manufacturer of a moving picture machine was explaining to a group of acquaintances how he had obtained a series of pictures showing a celebrated massacre that had once taken place at a western army post in the days when Indian warfare was a horrible reality instead of an exhibit on a Broadway stage.

"The commander of the post," he said, "had a detachment of soldiers and another of Indians re-enact the scene for us, dressed exactly as in the old days, so our machines could secure every detail—the onslaught of the Indians, the defense by the white soldiers, their massacre and the destruction of the fort."

"It may be very interesting," said the kindly citizen, "but I should not care to see it in even a picture."

"And did they really kill the white soldiers for you?" she asked, breathless.—New York Press.

Two Arctic Enemies.

Since the beginning of time there probably has been enmity between the polar bear and the walrus. Except for the walrus, bruin's reign over the arctic regions has been almost unchallenged since the race of mammoths passed. All the hardy flesh eaters that inhabit the bleak, unfertile northland are his natural prey. But most of all he depends upon the seals and sea lions for his food. There is only one animal that is powerful enough to defend itself and offspring against the polar bear's attack, the huge and cumbersome walrus, but its movements are so slow and awkward when out of the water that often it is impossible for the bulky animal to retard the swift attack and retreat of its smaller opponent.—Frank Stick in St. Nicholas.

Three of Them Knew.

According to the Philadelphia Record, a boy of eight said to his mother: "Well, there were only three boys in school today who could answer one question that the teacher asked us."

"And I hope my boy was one of the three," said the proud mother.

"You bet I was," answered the young hopeful, "and Sam Harris and Harry Stone were the other two."

"I am very glad you proved yourself so good a scholar, my son; it makes your mother proud of you. What question did the teacher ask, Johnny?"

"Who broke that glass in the back window?"

A Real Romance.

Sometimes there are instances in life like those in the story books: An Aitchison girl engaged herself to a carpenter, thinking he was poor, and discovered on the eve of her wedding day that he had $150 in the bank. He had not told her, wishing her to love him for himself alone.—Aitchison Globe.

A Big Bathtub.

A summer urchin, witnessing the phenomenon for the first time, yelled shrilly: "Mamma, look quick! Some one has pulled the plug out of the ocean!"

The Roller.

"And, like the human high roller," rejoined the thoughtful thinker, "it also gravitates downhill."—Chicago News.

THE PERFECT WAY.Scores of Paris Citizens Have Learned It.

J. T. Gardner, E. Main street, Carlisle, Ky., says: "I have had a great deal of trouble from disordered kidneys, in fact some years ago my case was said to be incurable. During recent years, my back was very weak and lame and ached almost constantly. The worst annoyance, however, was from the kidney secretions. They were too frequent in action and otherwise disordered. Rheumatic twinges in my hips and joints also bothered me and at times were so acute that it was hard for me to walk. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I obtained a box and had only taken them a short time when I felt a great deal better. Continuing their use was soon entirely relieved. I know Doan's Kidney Pills to be a valuable kidney remedy and I am willing to give them my strongest endorsement."

Plenty of proof like this from Paris people. Call at J. A. Wilson's drug store and ask what customers report. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Good Cough Medicine for Children.

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says, "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by W. T. Brooks. You need no other guarantee.

Seven Years of Proof.

"I have had seven years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best medicine to take for coughs and colds and for every diseased condition of the throat, chest or lungs," says W. V. Henry, of Panama, Mo. The world has had thirty-eight years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and colds, la grippe, asthma, hay fever, bronchitis, hemorrhage of the lungs, and the early stage of consumption. Its timely use always prevents the development of pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at Oberdorfer's drug store. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Watched Fifteen Years.

"For fifteen years I have watched the working of Bucklen's Arnica Salve; and it has never failed to cure any sore, boil, ulcer or burn to which it was applied. It has saved us many a doctor bill," says A. F. Hardy, of East Wilton, Maine. 25c at Oberdorfer's drug store.

INDIGESTION'S RECORD

"The best remedy I can prescribe for your indigestion, madam, is Green's August Flower. I know of several other physicians who prescribe it regularly."

Indigestion is making an awful record as a cause of sudden deaths. It is beating heart-failure in its ghastly harvest. You read in the papers daily of apparently healthy and even robust men being suddenly attacked with acute indigestion after enjoying a hearty meal, and of their dying in many cases before a physician could be called in.

This should be a warning to you who suffer with regular or periodical attacks of indigestion. If these unfortunate victims of acute indigestion had taken a small dose of Green's August Flower before or after their meals they would not have fallen a prey to such sudden seizures. August Flower prevents indigestion by creating good digestion. It also regulates the liver, purifies the blood and tones up the entire system in a natural way. Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

Prohibitionists Win in Tennessee

At 5:20 o'clock Tuesday evening Senate bill No. 1, providing for a statewide prohibition of the sale of liquor in Tennessee passed its third and final reading in the Senate. The vote was 20 to 13. Senators Bakerville, of Surner, and Swab, of Claiborne, voting with the 20 who have been known as "State-widers."

It is expected that the House will pass the bill. Immediately after the vote in the Senate was announced the wildest disorder prevailed. The debate preceding the passage of the measure, was replete with sensational incidents, one of which was ex-Governor John I. Cox's speech in defense of his past record and his present attitude toward temperance legislation.

How is Your Digestion.

Mrs. Mary Dowling of No. 228 8th Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in a case of acute indigestion, prompts this testimonial. I am fully convinced that for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best remedy on the market today." This great tonic and alterative medicine invigorates the system, purifies the blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female weakness. 50c. at Oberdorfer's drug store.

Colored Normal School.

Prof. J. H. Jackson, president of the State Normal and Industrial Institute, for the colored, at Frankfort, met the Board of Trustees of the schools Wednesday and reported that the school is in a flourishing condition. The attendance he stated was very large, and students are still coming from all parts of the State. The most gratifying part of the report was the "self help" manifested by the students. To aid in equipping all parts of the institution the students have contributed $765.10. The idea of "self help" has been preached to the students, stated the president, "and it has also been practical in a most substantial way." With the amount raised the printing, mechanical, chemical laboratory and other departments have been greatly improved, there are 800 students in attendance and the board of trustees proposes to have erected, at a later date, two new, imposing buildings.

Bride of Two Weeks Leaves Husband.

Mrs. Jane Parks Caldwell, who married Charles A. Caldwell, of Eminence, Christmas day, after living with him several weeks, departed from her home. In New York Tuesday she declared she had come to meet her affinity in the person of a traveling salesman for an Eastern silk firm. This affinity, William Milnee, is an elderly Scotchman with a wife and several children.

A telegram from Eminence states that Mr. Caldwell is one of the most prominent merchants of that city, and is considerably upset over his wife's sudden departure. He says that her actions are beyond comprehension and that he can offer no explanation for her conduct. He says that the woman's relatives are also at a loss to know why she left her home and under no circumstances will he live with her again, but declined to state what steps if any, he had taken to secure a legal separation.

Mr. Caldwell says he met his wife, who is 35 years of age, at the Shelbyville Fair last August, she being a visitor three from her home at Cynthiana, where her relatives are prominent people. The wedding took place at Cynthiana.

Sale of Thoroughbreds in Germany.

According to a dispatch from Berlin the first sale of American thoroughbred horses to take place in Germany was held at Hoppengarten race track near Berlin last week, when J. B. Haggin auctioned off a string of thirty-four mares and colts from his famous Elmendorf Farm, Lexington, Ky., the largest thoroughbred breeding establishment in the world. The animals form a part of an extensive shipment sent across the ocean for sale in England, France and Germany. All thirty-four mares and colts were sold at a total of $17,746, an average of about $500, the highest being $1,050 for Gold Order. Prince Sandretski, Lieutenant von Bennington, and other famous turfmen were among the purchasers.

Paris Chicken Fanciers Win Premiums.

Two of Paris' chicken fanciers, Mr. Duncan Bell and Dr. C. J. Clarke, carried off a number of premiums at the Cincinnati Poultry Show, which is now on at Cincinnati. There are 2,500 chickens on exhibition at the show and the pick of the whole country, which makes the two above named gentlemen feel quite proud of their victory.

Mr. Bell's breed of chickens are the Buff Orpingtons, and he won first and second premiums on cockerel, first and second on hen, and first on pullet.

Dr. Clarke won first premium on Single Comb White Leghorn cock, third on hen and fifth on hen.

Helped Mightily.

The city hands were kept busy yesterday for a time shoveling snow from State Not Liable.

Court of Appeals yesterday affirmed the case of Fred Ketterer's administrator vs. State Board of Control from Fayette, Judge Nunn writing the opinion. Ketterer, who was from Ashland, was killed at the Lexington Asylum, it was charged by one of the attendants. His administrator sued the Board of Control for $50,000 damages. The court holds that neither the State or its officials in such cases are liable for damages, but the persons who commit the acts that are the direct cause of the injury or death are liable.
